Dear Mr. Stumbur:

My name is Alex Isidoro. I am applying for the Co-op employment opportunity with DMIT. My passion for Web Development, willingness to accept challenges, and collaborative work mentality makes me the ideal candidate for this position. I am currently in my second term in Digital Media and IT and wish to graduate with a Web Design and Development Diploma. Upon completing my education, my objective is to enhance my skills and master the industry of web design.

My work experience represents my creative and determined mentality. I work collaboratively as a team member, embrace new challenges, and perform well in fast-paced environment. Further, I have volunteered as a Web Designer for a freelance company called Mike Lalli & Co. This experience motivated me to pursue a career in Web Design. I have learned to work with HTML, CSS, and WordPress to create quality web sites according to industry standards. You will see in my resume that I have developed a basic understanding of writing code, specifically in databases (such as SQL), C#, and HTML. I am enhancing my knowledge in HTML to the point where I can design websites that are complete and diversified. As I continue my education, I am eager to become proficient in other Web Design languages. At this point, I have yet to learn other languages such as JavaScript (which I will take in the winter term). However, given that I am a fast learner, I believe that, with practice and experience, I will master this language quickly. I will add that I take pride in my work; I strongly believe in going above and beyond to support the team and to exceed the client's expectations.

I have included my resume for your review. I can be reached either by email at alex.isidoro79@gmail.com or by phone at 780-667-2374 to answer any questions. Thank you for your consideration and I look forward to our next conversation.

Sincerely,

Alex Isidoro.
